CHALLENGE

In many areas there has been an unprecedented amount of rain this year. As a result, we have seen an increase in flooding in many cities across the country. Unexpectedly roads and bridges can disappear. How prepared is our department to cope with emergency response in situations that our outside the norm? Your truck enters an area that is much deeper than expected! It's your Call!

DISCUSSION

- What personnel safety issues come to mind?
- What procedures are in existence?
- How can you rescue your crew?
- Do we have additional apparatus to provide service to our community?
- What concerns do you have about the general public and evacuation that may be necessary?
- How prepared is your department equipped to provide services in a situation such as this?
- What mutual aid agreements do we have?
- You are the safety officer, what instructions do you have for your crew?
- What are your concerns as the incident commander?

The greatest asset of the fire service is our people; protect them!
